Planning a getaway in Pennsylvania? You may want to read this first.

U.S. News & World Report has just released its rankings of the very best luxury hotels in the state and nation.

The Four Seasons hotels stand out among other chains in the U.S., placing at the very top of a new set of rankings of the best hotels in the country. The 2019 rankings, released by U.S. News & World Report, look at the top luxury hotels and resorts in the country and in every state.

U.S. News awards the top 10 percent of ranked hotels, or hotels that fall at or above the 90th percentile, with a gold badge, the publication explains in its methodology. The hotels that rank at or above the 70th percentile are awarded a silver badge.

In Pennsylvania, five hotels received a gold badge while eight hotels were awarded a silver badge.

Here are the top-ranked luxury hotels in Pennsylvania, according to U.S. News & World Report:

- The Rittenhouse, Philadelphia (Gold)
- The Lodge at Woodloch, Hawley (Gold)
- Kimpton Hotel Palomar Philadelphia (Gold)
- Kimpton Hotel Monaco Philadelphia (Gold)
- The Hotel Hershey, Hershey (Gold)
- Kimpton Hotel Monaco Pittsburgh (Silver)
- The Ritz-Carlton, Philadelphia (Silver)
- Fairmont Pittsburgh (Silver)
- The Logan Philadelphia, Curio Collection by Hilton (Silver)
- Sofitel Philadelphia (Silver)
- Renaissance Pittsburgh Hotel (Silver)
- Omni William Penn Hotel (Silver)
- Eden Resort and Suites, Lancaster (Silver)

If you're wondering about hotels outside of Pennsylvania, California and New York had the most gold badge winners among the 50 states.

U.S. News comes up with a score to rank hotels using awards and recognitions a hotel has received, the hotel class (5-star, 4-star) and guest ratings from TripAdvisor.
