Though it's becoming trendier for hotels to advertise their wellness services, there are many hotels where the on-site gyms are major disappointments. We here at Be Well Philly firmly believe that you can get in a good workout anywhere — but TBH, we'd really love it if “anywhere” had more than one treadmill and a box of mismatched dumbbells.

That said, there are some Philly hotels in the area with wellness amenities that won't disappoint. From gyms stocked with top-of-the-line machines to spas that'll take your skincare and self-care to the next level, these are four Philly hotels where we'd gladly spend a wellness-focused staycation.

Where: 1 Logan Square, Logan Square

What: Access to a fitness center, salt-water pool, meditation room, and full-service spa.

While the hotel lobby looks like any other boutique hotel lobby, take the elevator down and you'll suddenly find yourself in a wellness paradise. Take in a big whiff of the aromatherapy air, then decide what you want to do first: A dip in the salt-water pool? A few moments of mindfulness in the meditation room? A jaunt on the cardio machines overlooking the pool? A pedicure at the spa? How about a Hydrafacial? Yeah, we'd plan on skipping that cable-TV-and-room-service routine, too.
