Any royal wedding is a much anticipated event — it's an alluringly grand spectacle that can't be missed. Happening this Saturday, May 19th, the royal union of Meghan Markle and Prince Harry, however, is a big deal on this side of the pond because the bride-to-be is an American! Markle is the first-ever to enter the British royal family, which is just the tip of the iceberg in terms of this groundbreaking marriage.

For these reasons, and many more, the royal wedding shan't be missed and must be celebrated. Below, you'll find a myriad of ways to celebrate the royal couple-to-be. From watch parties taking place all over the city to tons of brunch and drink specials, there's plenty of ways to get in on the fun.

Royal Wedding Celebratory Activities in Philadelphia

MAKE YOUR OWN FASCINATOR | From a fashion perspective, one of the most unique facets of the royal wedding is the fascinator. Fascinators are essentially smaller, lighter and more intricate hats that only cover a small portion of the head. Sometimes, they're pretty funky; other times, they match the wearer's outfit perfectly. On Wednesday, May 16, from 5:30 to 7 p.m. at The Logan Hotel, create your own fascinator and be prepared to dress to impress for your viewing of the royal wedding with tips from a local fascinator expert. It's $25 to reserve your spot, which you can do here.
